NOTES

1 ITU-T Recommendation D.105 was published in Fascicle II.1 of the Blue Book. This file is an extract from the Blue Book. While the presentation and layout of the text might be slightly different from the Blue Book version, the contents of the file are identical to the Blue Book version and copyright conditions remain unchanged (see below).

2 In this Recommendation, the expression “Administration” is used for conciseness to indicate both a telecommunication administration and a recognized operating agency.

Recommendation D.105

CHARGING FOR CALLS FROM OR TO A PUBLIC CALL OFFICE

The establishment of a station call from or to a public call office entails special expenses, but these special expenses are negligible in comparison with the other costs involved in the establishment of an international call.

It is therefore preferable not to collect a supplementary charge for the use of a public call office for an international call, but, notwithstanding, the Administrations which collect a supplementary charge in their national services may apply such a supplementary charge to international calls, it being understood that this supplementary charge is not included in the international accounts.
